When two methods of appointment collide: Who retains the power to appoint a new practitioner on the resignation of a current practitioner?

Another piece of the business rescue puzzle was solved by the Constitutional Court (CC) in Shiva Uranium (Pty) Limited (In Business Rescue) and Another v Tayob and Others ZACC 40. No one disputes that the idea of business rescue, and its introduction into South Africa's company law, was a positive step. However, the implementation has not always been smooth and the business rescue provisions of the Companies Act 71 of 2008 (Act) have required an intense amount of interpretation by the courts.

A \(temporary\) positive 'spread' for JP Markets as SCA dismisses liquidation order

The Supreme Court of Appeal (SCA) judgment of JP Markets v FSCA ZASCA 148 is the latest precedent dealing with state institutions' attempts to wind-up private companies on just and equitable grounds.

COVID-19 silver lining? The dawn of a new digital era for South African dispute resolution

The unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, and the consequent lockdown levels, affected every aspect of life as we knew it – and the legal fraternity was no exception. Despite courts being considered an essential service since the first Alert Level 4 lockdown in 2020, court processes in South Africa had to rapidly change and recalibrate to adapt to the so-called "new norm". This was only made possible through the implementation of digital platforms.

Revisions to Small Merger Guideline seek to regulate the dynamic digital market

The Competition Commission (Commission) has proposed amendments to its Guideline on Small Merger Notification (Revised Small Merger Guideline). The proposed changes align with the Commission's new focus on understanding and regulating digital markets, as evidenced by the recently launched online intermediary platforms market inquiry (detailed in our previous article ).
