Key insights into the Public Benefits Organizations Act, 2013

Delay is not denial. This famed phrase could not be truer for Kenyan civil society in light of the Government's gazetting of 14 May 2024 as the commencement date of the Public Benefit Organization Act, 2013 (PBO Act) after a decades-long wait, court battles, and defiant government administrations. The PBO Act repeals in its entirety the infamous Non-Governmental Organizations Co-ordination Act, 1990 (NGOAct).

Permanent residence in Kenya: What you need to know

Kenya is an East African country with a population of approximately 60 million people. It is one of the fastest-growing economies in sub-Saharan Africa and is rated the third best country in Africa for immigrants targeting high-income, well-paying jobs by the Henley Opportunity Index 2024. The World Bank further estimates that in 2023, Kenya's growth accelerated from 4,8% to 5%. The 28 th edition of the Kenya Economic Update (KEU) attributes this growth to a strong rebound of the agricultural sector and moderate growth of the services sector. Kenya is also home to diverse tourist attractions, which include wildlife such as the Big Five that inhabit its beautiful savannahs. It is also known for its citizens' athletic prowess, its stable political system and good governance.

Tax amnesty: A sham or simply misunderstood?

In an effort to improve tax revenue collection, the Government of Kenya has embarked on a 'confess and your sins shall be forgiven' campaign. In 2020, the previous Government put in place the Voluntary Tax Disclosure Programme, whereas the current Government has introduced a tax amnesty programme. In this article we will take a deep dive into both modes of amnesty, provides recommendations for future amnesty programmes and make the rallying call to taxpayers to quickly take advantage of the Tax Amnesty Programme before the 30 June 2024 deadline.
