CDH BOLSTERS ITS COMPETITION LAW PRACTICE WITH THE APPOINTMENT OF VERONICA CADMAN

Cliffe Dekker Hofmeyr (CDH) is pleased to announce the appointment of Veronica Cadman as an Executive Consultant for the firm's Competition Law practice.

"We are privileged to have Veronica join CDH as a senior member in our busy practice. Her extensive knowledge that spans 22 years, and highly respected expertise, is a key part of our growth strategy and will allow the firm to continue providing exceptional counsel and service to our clients," says Chris Charter, Director and National Head of CDH's Competition practice.

"Veronica's experience in competition law matters ranging from prohibited practices and the establishment of compliance policies, will prove an invaluable additional resource to our clients as we enter into a period of increased enforcement in the face of pending amendments to the law and policy," adds Charter.

Cadman completed her Bachelor of Arts in French and Law as well as an LLB at the University of the Witwatersrand in 1997. In 1998, she joined Webber Wentzel as a Candidate Attorney and completed her tenure at the firm as a Senior Associate in 2005. While at Webber Wentzel, Veronica participated in the formation of the firm's competition law department following the inception of the Competition Act in 1998. In 2006, Veronica joined Bowman Gilfillan where she became a Director in 2008. After her extensive experience in competition law practice, Cadman decided to move into private practice in 2011.

On her new appointment, Cadman comments, "I am really pleased to be joining one of South Africa's most respected law firms which is committed to providing an authentic knowledge-based legal service to its clients. I am excited to be part of a team of lawyers which is so highly regarded."
