

HEALTHCARE & PHARMACEUTICALS SECTOR

Globally, the healthcare and pharmaceuticals sector is under pressure to improve access within an ever-evolving regulatory environment, whilst facing rising costs, human resource shortages, and rapid technological developments.

Some of the sector's challenges include a constitutional imperative which requires the realisation of everyone's right of access to healthcare, a need to bridge sustainably the divide between public and private sectors, and an increasing myriad of regulation.

Post-pandemic, a new healthcare landscape emerged, with the recognition that health is a primary asset, an emphasis on lower cost and preventative solutions as well as digital health and precision medicine, innovation in impactful public/private partnerships, and the continued global vaccine race.

Successfully competing in this sector requires creative strategies and integrated solutions. Our multidisciplinary Healthcare and Pharmaceuticals Team has in-depth knowledge of the policy and legal issues which impact the sector.
